The image contains a scientific graph titled "GEOTAIL EPIC KP" with data points and various axes labeled. The graph shows data trends over time, with specific annotations and units. The data includes measurements of solar wind parameters, such as solar protons, and is plotted in a logarithmic scale. The graph includes annotations for different time periods and solar wind conditions, with markers indicating the presence of high-energy particles in the solar wind.